02

Explore skills data to assess academic programs

By gaining insights into the skills and salary outcomes of graduates through classroom, internship, or on-the-job experiences, department chairs and deans can mold their programs to optimize student success.

Build and nurture meaningful relationships with alumni

Graduate Insights enables university staff to target alumni based on a wide range of parameters, including location, salary, major and skills. With the ability to filter and create highly specific lists of alumni, the platform makes it easy to stay connected with the right people

04

Identify alumni to engage with in advancement efforts

The Graduate Insights Platform empowers universities to achieve their advancement goals by providing them with the tools to connect with the right alumni at the right time

Showcase your alumni successes to support admissions and recruitment efforts

Informing students on career outcomes drives informed decisions, and providing career outcomes data early reduces the number of students changing majors.
